To Whom It May Concern

It is my pleasure to recommend Rick Lowry with whom I have worked for several years on ESPN's daily morning show "Cold Pizza". Rick conducts himself professionally, reliably and with the utmost cool under pressure.

On many occasions, Rick has pulled through when we needed immediate assistance for the show's needs. It has been a comfort to know that Rick honors his commitments and works quickly and accurately.

In addition, Rick has the rare ability to keep his sense of humor intact during stressful moments – a quality which I have welcomed on more than several occasions.

Please feel free to contact me if you require additional information.

Sincerely,
Gregory A. MacDonald

Dear Prof. Conover,

This letter is to confirm that Rick Lowry (087-70-0599) has sufficiently completed the 120-hour internship at GG Productions. At GG he helped in the design and production of Flash animations and web sites, (fully completing projects with little or no help). Photo retouching, button and background design, web site and flash production and letterhead design were part of his production duties as well. His work was always excellent and virtually flawless. He also came to us with an advanced knowledge of the software; Photoshop, Illustrator, Image Ready, Dreamweaver, Power Point, Flash, and MS Office. During the course of his internship here he became proficient in the following; InDesign, GoLive and the OS X operating system. His attitude towards every job was nothing less than professional, never was he un-willing to take a job even if he was not completely familiar with the software. His services were greatly appreciated. He went above and beyond our expectations, and we were lucky to have him working with us. We wish nothing, but the best for him as a person and as a designer. With Rick's work ethic and skills he will be an asset to any company who hires him. Please send us more students of his caliber.

Best Regards

Christopher Pernice
